1. The Vasil Kolarov Electric Cable Factory is located in the northwest outskirts of Burgas, approximately 2,500 meters from the city center and 500 meters from the railroad station. Construction work on the factory was started in 1950 and completed in 1952. Production began in 1951 before the construction work was completed.
2. The factory consists of a single building, a masonry shed about 60 by 40 meters in size, which has a saw-toothed roof. Attached to the factory is a chimney (the highest in the city) constructed of bricks and covered on the outside with concrete. The building is not enclosed by a fence.
3. Approximately 400 workers are employed (shifts not known). Production consists of electric and telephone cables of various types and thicknesses.
